RAJIV RATTAN AND SAMEER GEHLAUT

36, Entrepreneurs (New)

Two Good

Because even when the stock market sank, they managed to keep afloat, raising Rs 1,785 crore for their Power IPO and holding on as one of the largest remaining non-banking financial companies.

Because they won the bid for refurbishment of Mumbai's Mantralaya area, having paid close to Rs 360 crore per acre, the highest ever per acre price.

Because by 2012, their forthcoming power projects at Amravati Phase1 and Nashik, with a capacity of 2,700 MW, will account for 15 per cent of India's private sector power generation.

Because by 2012, the company plans to disburse Rs 25,000 crore worth of loans at a 8.5 per cent rate of interest to the mass market.

Is embarrassed about Sameer about his business mistakes, like building malls, and Rajiv about his constant battle with weight.

Lucky charm Wives, for both.
