

Our duty is to keep the country green: Jaggi

Express News Service
Karur, Jan 11

WE are duty-bound to preserve the green cover of the country, Sadguru Jaggi Vasudev of Isha Yoga Foundation has said. Jaggi was here to participate in a function got up to mark the mass tree planting programme on behalf of the foundation on Sunday.

Speaking on the occasion, he said "No nation can prosper which is not green. We query in what way air, water and air are related to mankind. We put this question standing on the very earth we are talking about. Earth is our very life. But it is being growingly commercialised. Deforestation and sand theft may not harm Mother Earth. She will remain but mankind will perish. The most intellectual creature on earth, the human race, is adamant about using its unique faculty of reason. To keep the country green is as much a mark of civilisation as one keeps one's house clean," Jaggi added.

District Collector J Uma Maheswari presided. Karur Vysya Bank CEO P T Kuppusamy, Lakshmi Vilas Bank Managing Director V S Reddy, TNPL General Manager (Operations) R Mani and others participated.

Jaggi Vasudev launching an afforestation programme in Karur. District Collector J Uma Maheswari and others are also seen