A LITTLE bird tells us that Sadhguru Jaggi Vasudev, the Kafka-reading, golf-playing, motorbike riding uber cool mystic savant and spiritual guru celebrated for his 'inner transformational' workshops, made a motorbike trip to the Himalayas along with a handful of his close devotees, including the lovely Mitali Kakkar, wife of the maverick ad film maker and bon vivant Prahlad, who is one of Sadhguru’s closest devotees. Some trip that must have been!
Wish we were there!
