Biz Honchos to Share ‘Insight’ at Isha Event

ISHA VIOLATED NO RULES: JAGGI

To reporters’ queries on reported building violations at the Isha Yoga Centre, Jaggi Vasudev cleared the air by stating that process is on to get minor approvals. “No rules were violated,” he insisted. However, he refused to reply when reporters asked him about the notices being served by the DTCP and panchayat against construction of buildings on the premises of the spiritual centre.

Many of these are in the throes of pain of scaling up or have given up on expansion due to various inherent limitations.”

“Insight is an endeavour to bring successful entrepreneurs and business experts together to share and analyse the secret of their success.”
