Coimbatore: The festival of harvest; ‘Pongal’ will be celebrated at the 112-feet Adi Yogi statue on Tuesday. Spiritual head and founder of Isha Foundation, Sadguru Jaggi Vasudev will participate in the celebrations. Traditional ‘Pongal’ will be prepared as part of the celebrations. Games and rangoli competitions will be organized at the venue for public. Students of Isha Samskriti and Isha Home School will perform cultural programmes on theme ‘Pongal’. In a bid to educate the public on the importance of the native cattle breeds, on display at the venue will be nearly a dozen of them including Kangeyam, Ongole, Red sindhi, Hallikkar, Gir, Tharparkkar, Vechur, Rathi, Kankarej, Sahival. About 300 types of native paddy varieties will also be displayed. The event is open to public and is scheduled to begin at 3 pm on Tuesday.