At the four-day Inner Engineering Leadership programme organised at Isha Foundation, Sadhguru spiritual head and founder interacted with participating Indian Administrative Service (IAS) officials and offered them tips on how to handle corruption in government offices.

In the interactive session good and bad governance was discussed. Participants were initiated into the powerful 'Shambhavi Maha Mudra Kriya' and also went through several leadership training aspects during the four days of the splendid programme. As many as 44 IAS officials participated in the leadership programme that concluded recently, an ISHA Yoga press release said in Coimbatore today.
